Please add any additional information you feel may be relevant to understanding your nutritional health.

In order to tailor your counseling experience to your needs, it would be useful to know your expectations. Please check one of the following to indicate the amount of structure you believe meets your needs:

Tell me exactly what to eat for all my meals and snacks. I want a detailed food plan. Example: ½ cup oatmeal, 1 cup skim milk, 1 cup oat or almond or soy milk, 6 oz. orange juice, 1 slice whole wheat toast, 1 teaspoon margarine

I want a lot of structure but freedom to select foods. I want to use the exchange system. Example: 1 milk, 2 starch, 1 fruit, and 1 fat exchange

I want some structure and freedom to select foods. I want to use a food group plan. Example: 1 serving of dairy foods, fruits, and fat and oil group; 2 servings of grains

I don't want a diet. I just want to eat better. I will just set food goals.

Tips for Reducing Stress

- Learn to say “no.” Don’t over-commit. Delegate work at home and work.
- Organize your time. Use a daily planner. Prioritize your tasks. Make a list and a realistic timetable. Check off tasks as they are completed. This gives you a sense of control of overwhelming demands and reduces anxiety.
- Be physically active. Big muscle activities, such as walking, are the best for relieving tension.
- Develop a positive attitude. Surround yourself with positive quotes, soothing music, and affirming people.
- Relax or meditate. Schedule regular massages, use guided imagery tapes, or just take ten minutes for quiet reflection time in a park.
- Get enough sleep. Small problems can seem overwhelming when you are tired.
- Eat properly. Be sure to eat at least five servings of fruits and vegetables and three servings of whole grains every day. Limit intake of alcohol and caffeine.
- To err is human. Don’t treat a mistake as a catastrophe. Ask yourself what will be the worst thing that will happen.
- Work at making friends and being a friend. Close relationships don’t just happen. Compliment three people today. Send notes to those who did a good job.
- Accept yourself. Appreciate your talents and your limitations. Everyone has them.
- Laugh. Look at the irony of a difficult situation. Watch movies and plays and read stories that are humorous.
- Take three deep breaths.
- Forgive. Holding onto grudges only causes you more stress and pain

Physical Activity Log

Record all physical activity for a week. Remember to include regular daily activities such as climbing stairs, gardening, and walking to the office from a parking lot. Include all forms of physical fitness activities, including stretching, weight lifting, balancing, and aerobic movement.

| Day of the Week | Type of Activity | Amount of Time |
|-----------------|------------------|----------------|
| Sunday          |                  |                |
| Monday          |                  |                |
| Tuesday         |                  |                |
| Wednesday       |                  |                |
| Thursday        |                  |                |
| Friday          |                  |                |
| Saturday        |                  |                |

Physical Activity Options

Look for Everyday Opportunities

Short bursts of activity throughout the day make a difference.

- Use steps instead of elevators or escalators.
- Park your car in a distant section of the parking lot.
- Leave work five minutes later. Take a walk around the building.
- Get off the train or bus one stop early and walk the rest of the way.
- Take a walk during lunch.
- March, stretch, or do squats while brushing your teeth.
- Pace around the house or do arm curls with a can of food while talking on the phone.
- Jump rope, stretch, jog in place, or lift weights while watching TV.
- Be prepared. Keep walking shoes in your car or in your desk.
- Take your bike with you to a conference and explore the local scenery before driving home.

Plan a Daily Routine

Think about cost, convenience, and bad weather options when planning a program. Look for creative ways to keep the activities enjoyable.

- Schedule time for physical activity. Write it in your calendar.
- Vary the physical activities. Plan to bike one day a week, jog two days a week, and go to the gym three days a week.
- Join a walking club, a biking club, etc.
- Add variety to the activity. Have several walking trails, ask a friend to join you in your walks, or listen to music or recorded books during your walks.

Plan Physically Active Leisure Time Events

Look for activities the whole family can enjoy.

- Have a family baseball or soccer game.
- Plan a bike tour, mountain hike, or canoe trip.
- Explore a cave.

Physical Activity Readiness Questionnaire, PAR-Q*

(A Questionnaire for People Aged 15 to 69)

Regular physical activity is fun and healthy, and increasingly more people are starting to become more active every day. Being more active is very safe for most people. However, some people should check with their doctor before they start becoming much more physically active. If you are planning to become much more physically active than you are now, start by answering the seven questions in the box below. If you are between the ages of 15 and 69, the PAR-Q will tell you if you should check with your doctor before you start. If you are over 69 years of age, and you are not used to being very active, check with your doctor. Common sense is your best guide when you answer these questions. Please read the questions carefully and answer each one honestly: check YES or NO.

Has your doctor ever said that you have a heart condition and that you should only do physical activity recommended by a doctor?

Yes      No

Do you feel pain in your chest when you do physical activity?

Yes      No

In the past month, have you had chest pain when you were not doing physical activity?

Yes      No

Do you lose your balance because of dizziness or do you ever lose consciousness?

Yes      No

Do you have a bone or joint problem that could be made worse by a change in your physical activity?

Yes      No

Is your doctor currently prescribing drugs (for example, water pills) for your blood pressure or heart condition?

Yes      No

Do you know of any other reason why you should not do physical activity?

Yes      No

Reprinted with permission from American College of Sports Medicine. Guidelines for Exercise Testing and Prescription, 5th Ed. Philadelphia, PA: Williams & Wilkins, 1995, p. 14-16.

If you answered YES to one or more questions:

Talk with your doctor by phone or in person BEFORE you start becoming much more physically active or BEFORE you have a fitness appraisal. Tell your doctor about the PAR-Q and which questions you answered YES.

- You may be able to do any activity you want—as long as you start slowly and build up gradually. Or, you may need to restrict your activities to those that are safe for you. Talk with your doctor about the kinds of activities you wish to participate in and follow his/her advice.
- Find out which community programs are safe and helpful for you.
- Develop an exercise plan with the aid of an exercise specialist.

If you answered NO honestly to all PAR-Q questions, you can be reasonably sure that you can:

- Start becoming much more physically active—begin slowly and build up gradually. This is the safest and easiest way to go.
- Take part in a fitness appraisal—this is an excellent way to determine your basic fitness so that you can plan the best way for you to live actively.

Delay becoming much more active:

- If you are not feeling well because of a temporary illness such as a cold or a fever—wait until you feel better; or
- If you are or may be pregnant—talk to your doctor before you start becoming more active.

Please note: If your health changes so that you then answer YES to any of the above questions, tell your fitness or health professional. Ask whether you should change your physical activity plan.

Informed Use of the PAR-Q: The Canadian Society for Exercise Physiology, Health Canada, and their agents assume no liability for persons who undertake physical activity, and if in doubt after completing this questionnaire, consult your doctor prior to physical activity.

I have read, understood, and completed this questionnaire. Any questions I had were answered to my full satisfaction.

Physical Activity Assessment and Feedback Form

The following contains your evaluation of the physical activity assessment. Do not be surprised if you do not meet all the standards set by national organizations, as most North Americans do not. One consequence of recent technological advances has been to decrease the need to move. This is a serious concern for our health. As evidence has been accumulating about the benefits of regular physical activity, several governmental and health agencies have issued official statements and/or instituted national programs to combat this problem. These include:

- American Medical Association
- American Heart Association
- Centers for Disease Control
- American College of Sports Medicine
- National Institutes of Health
- Office of the Surgeon General and Health Canada

Benefits of regular moderate exercise: Reduces your risk or aids in the management of:

- Heart disease
- Diabetes
- High blood pressure
- Cancer

Aids in the support of:

- Strong bones
- Improves your mood, self-esteem, and self-image
- Increases energy
- Maintains or aids in loss of weight
- Maintains function and preserves independence in older adults

Physical Activity Standard<sup>1</sup>

Muscular Strength: Engage in muscle strengthening activities that are moderate or high intensity and involve all muscle groups on 2 or more days a week.

Standard Not Met

Flexibility: Engage in activities that stretch major muscle groups at least 2 times per week.

Standard Not Met

Endurance (Minimum): Engage in at least 150 minutes of moderate or 75 minutes of vigorous aerobic activity a week.

Standard Not Met

Endurance (Additional Benefits): Engage in at least 300 minutes of moderate or 150 minutes of vigorous aerobic activity a week.

Standard Not Met

Motivation Level

Implication

Would you consider learning more about how moderate physical activity could help your health?

For some reason, you are not sure that you are ready to begin a physical activity program. Your counselor will explore your ambivalence with you to see if you are ready to make plans to increase your physical activity level.

Great, you are ready to begin or increase your activity level. Your counselor can provide you with resources to aid in developing a plan.

Congratulations, you are already actively involved in a physical activity program. Your counselor will review with you the standards set by authorities. If you do not meet all of them, you may wish to make some alterations.

Physical Activity Readiness:

Talk to your doctor before becoming much more physically active or having a fitness appraisal as indicated by the following:

Man over age 40

Delay an increase in physical activity due to pregnancy or illness.

<sup>1</sup>Standards are based on American College of Sports Medicine Position Standards, 1998 and 2008 Physical Activity Guidelines for Americans. Note: Reevaluate readiness if you experience dizziness, chest pain, undue shortness of breath, difficulty breathing or unusual discomfort after beginning an exercise program.

Holistic Health and Wellness Survey

Answer the questions in each section below. Each response will be a number from 0 to 5 and will correspond to either how strongly you agree with the statement or, if the question is related to an activity, the frequency described in the parentheses. Following each section, total your score and compare your results to the descriptions given at the end of the survey.

0 = Strongly disagree (once a year or less)
1 = Disagree (2-12 times per year)
2 = Mildly disagree (2-4 times per month)
3 = Mildly agree (2-3 times per week)
4 = Agree (4-6 times per week)
5 = Strongly agree (daily)

Your Score Analysis

(325–375) Optimal

Congratulations! You have been taking care of yourself and, most likely, have a firm understanding of the relationship between your health and your mind, body, spirit, and emotions. Continue to learn deeper truths about yourself and address your changing needs as you evolve in life to maintain your optimal health. As an individual with such positive habits and practices, you are a shining example of how to live a great life. Spread your knowledge and keep up the good work!

(275–324) Excellent

You have been working hard to develop a greater understanding of yourself, and it shows. By actively participating in your own health, you have created positive patterns in your life and have left destructive old habits in the past. As you continue to find and correct the hidden sources of your problems, you will find a deeper joy in everyday living and see more benefits in how you feel.

(225–274) Good

You have probably started feeling the connection between your body, mind, spirit, and emotions and can sense when things are going wrong. Continue to make changes in your life that reflect taking an active role in creating your own health. As problems come up, use them as opportunities to discover more about how you function and find positive ways to correct them. Connect with others that have similar views and goals of optimal health as you build up your support network. Avoid starting any bad or unhealthy habits, as you have already worked hard to get this healthy!

(175–224) Fair

When it comes to your overall health, there are a few things missing. Start cultivating a stronger connection between your body, mind, spirit, and emotions to encourage better health and wellness. Look inward to find hidden beliefs and behaviors that are preventing you from achieving optimal health. Now is also the time to begin learning positive ways of correcting any negative behaviors and creating more balance in your life. By working to establish a strong foundation now, you will soon be able to build a nourishing lifestyle for your future.

(125–174) Below Average

Things may not be too bad at this time, but you are heading down a dangerous road. If you haven't already, start making changes in your life that will strengthen your body, mind, spirit, and emotions. Look for others that have similar goals of optimal health and establish a good support network. Continue finding positive actions to replace unhealthy or negative habits, and practice them daily. Before long you will be feeling and looking great!

(75–124) Poor

This is definitely the time to start making changes before things get any more difficult. Taking charge and putting your health first is very important for you right now. Knowledge is power, so this is a great time to start learning healthy new habits and use them to replace the negative things in your life. Share your new thoughts and aspirations with others, and establish a support network. Focus on your goal of optimal health, and make decisions that reflect that goal. Remember to keep asking for help if you need it!

(0–75) Extremely Unhealthy

Something needs to change and fast! If the unhealthy patterns in your life are not already creating illness, they soon will. It is vital that you take control of the situation and make several positive changes in how you are living. Start learning new ways to work healthy habits into your life and do them daily! Making improvements is much easier with support, so talk with others about what you are doing. If there are people in your life who do not support these changes, find more who will. Don't be afraid to ask for help if you are struggling or feel you need it. Maintaining a positive outlook is extremely important, so start keeping track of the things you are grateful for in life. Things can only go up from here!

Health and Wellness Questionnaire

Answer the questions in each section below and total your score. Each response will be a number from 0 to 5.

Your Name

Please refer to the frequency described within the parentheses (e.g., "2 to 3 x /wk") when answering questions about an activity; e.g., "Do you maintain a healthy diet?"

Your Email

However, when the question refers to an attitude or an emotion (most of the Mind and Spirit questions), e.g., "Do you have a sense of humor?" the response is more subjective, less exact, and you can refer only to the items describing the frequency, such as often or daily, but not to the numbered frequencies in parentheses.

0 = Never or almost never (once a year or less)
1 = Seldom (2-12 times per year)

Personal Motivation and Goals

Look back at what motivated you to sign up for health coaching. Did you address those goals?

What did you get out of working together?

POST-ASSESSMENT QUESTIONNAIRE

What do you do for fun now that you didn't do before we began working together?

What are some healthy eating habits you have developed over the course of working together? Which would you like to continue?

What have you changed about the way you eat, cook, or approach food? How do you feel about those changes?

What did you change about the way you exercise, move, or workout? How does it feel?

Stress, Energy, and Self-Care

How has your stress-level changed? What do you think helped the most?

What can you do in the future to continue to manage your stress/self-care in a healthier way?

What did you discover “fills your cup” and gives you energy? What did you discover “empties your cup” and drains your energy? How can you keep filling up your cup moving forward?

Let's Set Goals

Set specific, actionable (future) goals for each of the following categories to focus on now that we've worked together. Think of the goal you want, and then write (at least) 3 steps to take to get there and how you'll do it:

Feedback

I'd love to hear about your experience working with me and how I can improve in the future. Please leave me some feedback where you feel comfortable.

What can I do better in the future to serve my clients?

What was your favorite part about my coaching style?

What area of my coaching do you think could use the most improvement?

Is there anything else you'd like to tell me about my coaching style/approach, our time together, or how I can improve in the future?
